

Press Office
12th World Congress on the Menopause

Registration is free for media with accreditation.

Accredited media will be able to use the press facilities.

More information about press activities during the Congress will be posted here closer to the meeting (press releases, updates, etc.).

Journalists employed by news organisations attending the meeting for the purpose of editorial coverage will be granted personal badges.

Media accreditation badges for pre-registered journalists will be given when first visiting the Congress at the Press Office and should be worn and visible at all times when at the Palacio Municipal de Congresos, in Madrid (Campo de las Naciones). On-site registration will also be possible.

Journalists are required to present appropriate credentials as part of their registration application (official pass credentials OR letter of assignment from the media organisation being represented).

Companies or organisations producing publications, videos and other products intended for marketing, advertising, financial analysis or public relations purposes may not register as media. Financial analysts; sales, advertising or marketing representatives; public relations personnel; book publishers and book authors; and individuals from communications, print and online promotion services may not register as media but are welcome to register as regular attendees.

Media unable to attend the 12th World Congress on the Menopause meeting may request press materials by contacting the Press Office. Press kits will be sent to non-registered media immediately following the Congress.

The 12th World Congress on the Menopause Press Office will update information regarding all press events scheduled for the Congress.
